TWO UNITED STATES SENATORS FROM NOW UNTIL MARCH

Double Election Necessary for Senator
In November.

Washington, D. C. June 6.—Congressmen familiar with the national appointment and election laws concerning vacancies in the United States say to-day Gov. McCreary on June 16, will be privileged to designate a successor to the late W. O. Bradley, and that this successor can serve until his successor is chosen at the November election.

Thus there will be two United States Senators to be chosen in Kentucky, in November by the people—one to serve from that date until March 4, 1915, the day of the expiration of Senator Bradley's term, and the other to serve six years from March 4, 1915, as his regularly accredited successor. This will mean a complicated ballot.

ORDERED TO SECURE ENCAMPMENT GROUNDS

Adjutant General of State Guard Gets Instructions.

Lexington, Ky. May 23—Adjutant General J. Tandy Ellis, said to night that he had just received instructions from the United States War Department to make arrangements for the annual ten days encampment of the three Kentucky regiments and a company of United States regulars. He added that if arrangements could be made for suitable grounds he would locate the encampment near this city. It is proposed to hold the encampment on the first ten days of July. Col. Ellis, accompanied by Capt. Ethelbert, Breckenridge, U. S. A., Secretary John Cramer, of the Commercial Club, and officials of the traction companies this afternoon visited Bluegrass Park on the Versailles pike six miles from this city, which has been suggested as the site for this encampment. No conclusion was reached as to the park's selection, but Col. Ellis said that he would hold another meeting Monday afternoon with the traction company officials and expected to come to terms concerning Bluegrass Park. He said that there would be about 2,300 men in the encampment.

Now It Is Murder

The militant suffragettes who have flourished as destroyers of property now aim at the destruction of life. The gallery guard who was hammered over the head with a hatchet by a shrieking virago may not die, but the assault with intent to kill will be imitated by others of the sisterhood. Murder, sooner or later, will crown the efforts of the women who should have been punished long ago.

The cat-and-mouse act is nothing more than the baby act played by the British Government. To punish a woman as a man is punished for the same violation of law requires courage. The British have lacked it. The result has been lawlessness encouraged by immunity.

Only one of the militants has displayed the courage of her convictions. The poor demented creature who flung herself under hoofs of the horses when the English Derby was run a year ago gave up her life while craftier self-exploiters stood safely back from the track inclosure and applauded a "martyr" who was doomed to be forgotten a week after the tragedy.

The hunger strikers, despite all of their protestations of self-sacrifice and assertions of equality, are merely weak women who throw themselves upon the mercy of men as soon as they are locked up, and demand the obsequies which they pretend to despise. Too much rope has been given to them. The failure of the law to punish them results, logically enough, in turning against life the hatchet that was at first used again at property.—Courier Journal.

Clement Shorter's proposal for the erection of a memorial to Oliver Goldsmith in London is likely to meet with success. KY EDITORS AT DAWSON SPRINGS

Annual Meeting of The Press Association Convened Monday Evening.

CONTINUES FOUR DAYS.

Dawson Springs, June 8.—The forty-fifth annual summer meeting of the Kentucky Press Association convened in this city to night at 8 o'clock, the association being called to order by President John S. Lawrence, of the Cadiz Record. The meeting will continue until Friday morning.

Many of the editors, their wives and friends reached the city today, and others will arrive tonight and Tuesday. From all indications the attendance will be very large and a very interesting and instructive meeting will be held. Special arrangements have been made by the Commercial Club and the citizens of the town to entertain the pencil pushers during their stay here and efforts are to be made to have Dawson selected as the permanent meeting place of the association.

Following the calling of the meeting to order by the president tonight, Rev. W. B. Wright, of the Christian church, offered prayer. Will P. Scott, of this city, former member of the association, delivered the welcome address and made the newspaper boys feel very much at home. The response was made by T. C. Underwood, of the Hopkinsville New Era. President Lawrence concluded the program for the evening with the annual address.

Washington—A total decrease of 175 persons killed and 547 injured in all classes of railroad accidents was shown in the accident bulletin issue today by the interstate commerce commission for the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1913, as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1912. There was also a decrease of 386 in the number of train accidents. The report shows 1,450 collisions and 2,700 derailments for the quarter with property damage of $3,090,360. Practically all of the figures show decreases.

Newburgh, N. Y., True to a promise he made forty years ago that he would return a thousand dollars for every one of fifty advanced him for a prospecting trip to the west, John Patton has notified Mrs. Joseph Kampe, a widow living here, that he was preparing to send $50,000 to her.

Mr. Patton was the son of John Patton who conducted the Pacific hotel in Greenwich street where he became acquainted with Mrs. Kampe and made the unusual proposal. She had forgotten the matter until she received the message last week that told of the fortune that awaited her.

J. Harry Howe Marries

Miss Elizabeth Thomas

The Nashville Banner of Saturday contained this announcement: "The many friends of Mr. J. Harry Howe and Miss Elizabeth Thomas will be interested to know that they were married in Chicago this afternoon, the ceremony being performed at the home of Mrs. Nelson Fuqua."

"The marriage license was secured in the office of County Court Clerk Will F. Hunt Friday afternoon late and Mr. Howe and Miss Thomas were accompanied to Chicago by several relatives and close friends who had known of the contemplated step."

"Mr. Howe is one of the most prominent business men of this section and is head of the Southern Ice Company of this city. Miss Thomas is a daughter of the late John W. Thomas, Jr."

Mr. Howe is a director in the St. Bernard Mining Co. and has numerous warm friends here.

Signs of The Times

"How's business, did you ask? It's rotten," said a railroad man of the first rank.

"I made an inspection of the road last week and it was disgusting to pass manufacturing plants where formerly the whirr of machinery and the shouts of workmen could be heard. Many gates were barred, and a solitary watchman patrolled the plants."

"Last week, also, I had to serve on a grand jury. First case: What's your trade? A cooper. Second case: What do you do? I'm an iron worker. What are you doing? Nothing. Third case: Draughtsman. Why aren't you working? I do not know. I haven't been able to get work for weeks. And so on."

"There they were, men who would work if they had an opportunity. I wish our business disturbers could have had some of my experiences of the past week."—Exchange.

Seattle, Wash.—"Mother" Mary Jones, organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, was barred by a Canadian immigration inspector from boarding a Canadian Pacific steamer bound for Vancouver because Chief Campbell, of the provincial police at Victoria, decided that she would be "a disturbing element."

"Mother" Jones was on her way to Nanaimo to address striking miners.

"Dinner Pail Man" to Lecture During the Chautauqua Here

REV. GEORGE L. McNUTT WORKING ON A DAM AT THE FOOT OF FREDERICK'S PEAK.

THE Morning of Labor day, 1910, Rev. George L. McNutt ("the dinner pail man"), who is to lecture at our Chautauqua this season, appeared at the foot of Frederick's peak, where the Monoclonchuz's waters swiftly flow to join the nearby Niohara. Here a huge dam and lake are being constructed for power and pleasure. "Need any help?" the stranger asked. "Can you handle a wheelbarrow?" the boss replied. The stranger declared he could do anything any other laborer could do. "All right; go ahead," said the boss. The stranger took his place at the concrete mixer, wheelbarrow in hand, along with pure blooded Americans, Sioux Indians and mixed Americans like himself. There were winter floaters looking for enough to feed on as blind baggage to Denver, Deadwood or Kansas City and homesteaders badly in need of spare change to help hold down their 600 acres of sand hills. The Indians were picturesque; the Macedonians were intensely interesting. One had been fourteen years in a Turkish prison. The floaters were mostly wrecks. All were human documents whose hieroglyphics are so confusing to social onlookers who have escaped manual labor. The stranger was McNutt. "the dinner pail man," who had just filled sixty Chautauqua dates. He was now at school again, ten hours a day, with aching muscles, open eyes and ears and heart, sounding the depths of the life of the other half and deciphering the deeply grooved human hieroglyphics. Compulsory enlistment in the army of industry, as Professor James remarks, knocks out the foolishness and makes room for sane, sober ideas about social, economic and religious questions. This yearly renewed fellowship with those who labor gives the "stranger" his peculiar pathos and power before the men and women of the Lyceums, the Chautauqua, the clubs and the churches. McNutt knows the game. He is a living voice. For six weeks he continued his studies and then started out lecturing again with another interesting chapter added to his long list of experiences.

The Bolander Orchestra, a Feature of Our Forthcoming Chautauqua Program

THE Bolander Orchestra will soon begin its fifth year as a musical organization. The members of this company are all born musicians. Their father, John A. Bolander, is a violin maker. While mere children, they all began to play musical instruments. Adeline Bolander, at the age of seven years, used a half sized violin to play in public at recitals. This orchestra presents both vocal and instrumental music. The instrumental work, however, is emphasized most strongly. In their program the members of this company arrange themselves first into a brass and string orchestra and later into an all string orchestra. They render such selections as the Sextette from "Lucia," the "Poet and Peasant" by Verdi, "Orpheus" from Offenbach, "The Bohemian Girl" by Balfe and a string number "Humoresque" by Dvorak. A feature of each program is the work of the drummer, Miss Alice Bolander. In addition to the drum, she operates the sleigh bells, canary whistle, locomotive whistle, a school bell, a Chinese block, a triangle, castanets, crash cymbal, orchestra bells, rackets, a sliding steamboat whistle, a cyclone whistle, a duck quack, a rattle crow and a tambourine.

Let Evil End With You.
Let evil end with you. Do not pass on the scandal, the doubt, the injustice, the abuse you have received. Moral garbage, thus consumed, shall lighten your neighborhood, instead of cumbering and defiling it.—From "A Farmer's Notebook," by C. E. D. Phelps.

Take plenty of Time to Eat.
There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating so rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets.—They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by All Dealers.

Memorial ...Day...

By JOHN E. DOLSEN

Copyright, 1914, by American Press Association

THE few survivors left of all That mighty host of stalwart men
Who answered once the country's call
For help are gathered now again.

While 'neath the flag they fought to save
They totter on their weary way
To deck a fallen comrade's grave,
Their dreams are of a vanished
day.

As memory takes a backward sweep
What recollections crowd their souls!
They see again the red flame leap;
Above the plain the dun cloud rolls.

Below the locks now thin and white
And wrinkled brow of age we see
From those old eyes leap into sight
The deathless soul of '63.

Those four dark years, when tears
and blood
Mixed in a carnival of strife,
To us are but an episode;
To them they shaded all of life.

The march through cold, heat, snow
or rain,
Body and nerve strained overtime,
The wounds that maimed with racking pain,
Made of them wrecks before their prime.

The few now left are marching on;
They'll cross the river soon and rest.
'Tis well before the last are gone
That they should know we hold them best.

BATTLE HYMN'S BIRTH.

Story of Writing of Famous War Song
by Julia Ward Howe.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe told the story of how she came to write her stirring song, the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

"It was during the second year of the war," she said, "and I had gone to Washington with my husband and my pastor, the Rev. James Freeman Clarke. I had wished many times that I could do something for my country, but the way seemed closed. My husband was too old and ill to go; my son was only a boy. My children were so young that I could not leave my home for long myself. While we were in Washington there was a great review of the troops across the river. We drove out to see it. While it was in progress there was a dash made against some of our troops by the enemy. It was repulsed, but the review was abandoned, and the troops came thronging back to Washington and we with them.

"The progress of our carriage was slow, for the roads were crowded with the soldiers. To encourage the men we began singing various songs and hymns, and they would join in the chorus. After we had sung 'John Brown's Body' Dr. Clarke turned and asked me why I did not write some new words for that music. I replied that I had tried several times, but never could seem to write any good enough.

"The next morning just about 4 o'clock I woke suddenly. As I lay there I heard the words of the hymn
begin to form themselves in my mind.
I got up and by the faint light of the early morning scrawled them on a piece of paper and then went back to bed and sound asleep again. That is the way the hymn was written."—Saturday Evening Post.

"Five Minutes For Memories."
A custom which is becoming national is the silent dedication of the five minutes beginning at noon on May 30 to those civil war heroes who now are passed away. Soldiers, veterans, public men and just plain citizens all help to observe the beautiful custom of devoting five minutes to the memory of the men who fought to keep this country one nation.

First Northern Memorial Day.
The first observance of Memorial day in the north was in 1866 at Waterloo, N. Y., when General Murray had the veterans of his post decorate the graves of their comrades. In 1867
T. C. Campbell of Cincinnati marched his post to the graves and laid wreaths on them. In 1868, following General Logan's request, there was a general observance of the day wherever Union soldiers were buried.

FOREST NOTES

The New York state forest nurseries have a capacity of 28 million young trees a year.

Approximately 750 acres on the Oregon national forest were planted with young trees this spring.

The state of Pennsylvania celebrates two arbor days each year
—one for spring planting and one for fall—in April and October respectively.

On the Deerlodge national forest
in Montana one lookout station has the record of reporting accurately, by distance or direction, a fire that was sixty miles away.

Nearly 3 million young trees are being set out this spring on the national forest of northern Idaho and Montana. On the St.
Joe national forest in Idaho three thousand acres will be planted.

Ranchers within the adjacent to the Sierra national forest, California, have formed a co-operative association for the prevention of forest fires. They need to use fire in clearing land for farming, and will do it on a community basis, with all members present to prevent the fires spread.

addition to our regular 3 reels.

bruises, mamma's sore throat, Grandpa's lameness—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the household remedy. 25c and 50c.

Let Evil End With You.

Let evil end with you. Do not pass on the scandal, the doubt, the injustice, the abuse you have received.
Moral garbage, thus consumed, shall lighten your neighborhood. Instead of cumbering and doffing it—From "A Farmer's Notebook," by C. E. D.
Phelps.

Battle Between Trees.

I remember a cedar and maple growing as close together as if they sprang from the same root. Some thirty-five or six years ago they were about twenty feet in height and the maple was probably about the same number of years old; the cedar twice as much.
The maple is now twice that height,
and its desperate efforts to straighten filled the cedar (round which it takes a complete turn) and flattened itself
grotesquely.—From "A Farmer's Notebook," by C. E. D. Phelps.

Clara Barton's Splendid Work.

America owes its Red Cross almost entirely to one woman—Clara Barton.
While resting in Europe, after her arduous work during the civil war, she learned of Mr. Durant, read his book looked into the treaty, saw its application in the wars then pending, and came home determined that her own country should ratify the treaty and put it to good use. Said Miss Barton:
"If we had adopted the Red Cross idea in the Civil war Andersonville, with its 10,000, would never have stained our record."

Chautauqua Lecturer Who Has Studied Labor Problems In the Laboratories of Living Men

REV. GEORGE L. McNUTT.

GEORGE L. McNUTT, the "dinner pail man," who is to lecture at on Chautauqua on "Culture and Democracy," has been upon the platform for years, and few men have had more return dates than he.
As Governor Hoch of Kansas says, "He has a big brain, a big heart and a big message." Mr. McNutt was a farmer boy, Hoosier born, from Douglas county, Ill. A student for a year at Princeton university, a graduate of Wabash college, he became a Presbyterian preacher at Urbana, Ill. To the west of the church was the University of Illinois, with its army of students; to the east the shops of the Big Four railroad, with its 500 dinner pail men.
Thus from the first the preacher was confronted with the practical relations of culture and democracy. After preaching fifteen years in Urbana, Indianapolis, New York city and the far west Mr. McNutt entered the University of Hard Knocks to study first hand social and economic questions. Beginning as a roustabout in an iron mill, the preacher worked in, through Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, Boston and through New England up to Maine. For seven years the man from the pulpit, with his wife and boys, lived the life of the unskilled day laborer's family, studying the problems and conditions of the laboring people in the laboratories of living men.
Mr. McNutt's lecture here will be one of the features of the Chautauqua.

Signor E. Forcellati Dante to Direct His Band Here During One Day of Our Chautauqua

SIGNOR E. FORCELLATI DANTE.

ONE of the big features of the Chautauqua here will be the appearance of Signor E. Forcellati Dante and his Italian band on one day of the program.
Signor Dante was a student in the Conservatory of Naples at the age of seven and graduated from that college at the age of seventeen. Ten years later he became leader of his band. He is also a trombone soloist of unusual ability.

The Secret of Health is Elimination of Waste

Every business man knows how difficult it is to keep the pigeon holes and drawers of his desk free from the accumulation of useless papers. Every housewife knows how difficult it is to keep her home free from the accumulation of all manner of useless things. So it is with the body. It is difficult to keep it free from the accumulation of waste matter. Unless the waste is promptly eliminated the machinery of the body soon becomes clogged. This is the beginning of most human ills.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Comments of World-Famous Men on the Chautauqua

Keep in Mind that Our City Is to Have a Great Five-Day Chautauqua Program This Season

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Ex-President of the United States, says:
"The chautauqua is the most distinctively American thing in this country."

Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State, says:
"The chautauqua affords one of the best opportunities now presented the public speaker for the discussion of questions of interest to the people. The audience is a select one and always composed of the thoughtful element of the community, and as they pay admission they stay to hear. I believe that a considerable part of the progress that is now being made along the line of moral and political reform is traceable to the influence of the chautauqua."

Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, the World's Greatest Preacher and President of Armour Institute of Technology, says:
"The chautauquas have become a great people's university. They are among the greatest feeders for our colleges and universities. He further states that ten per cent of the students in the institution of which he is president, Armour Institute, owe their presence to the chautauqua influence."

Hon. Champ Clark, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, says:

"A great many newspaper wits shoot their shafts at chautauqua lecturers, and certain purse-proud editors undertake to make it a sin for a public man to lecture for pay. They think it the height of sarcasm to refer to a public man as a chautauquan. There is one great virtue in chautauqua money. It is clean money. You do not have to explain where you got it. If a man does not desire to go to hear a lecture, there is no law to compel him to do so. . . . The chautauqua has been a powerful force in directing the political thought of the country, which is largely sociological in these latter days. . . . I defend the chautauqua and the chautauqua lecturer, with whom I have been associated, because they constitute as fine a group of men and women as can be found among the splendid citizenship of America. I have a deep and abiding interest in them, and bid them a hearty godspeed in their work."—From The Arena.

New Indian Animal Stories

How the Chipmunk Got His Stripes

By JOHN M. OSKISON

Children, Color Up This Picture.

(Copyright, 1911, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Long time ago, when the spry little chipmunk darted across the camp ground in the yellow sunlight of a summer morning, the old men would call to the little Indian boys not to shoot their arrows at it.

"Hol he is our friend," an old man would say, and when the boys asked why the chipmunk was their friend, the old man would tell this story:

It was in the days when man began to spread out over the earth and make himself the ruler of all the birds and animals and insects. Whenever man wanted a bird or an animal to eat or a worm to catch a fish, he just went and took it without asking.

So the birds, the insects and the small animals called a council to see what they could do to stop man from taking their lives. It was a carrier pigeon that took word to all that the council was to be held, and when she got back from her long travels, the carrier pigeon settled down in a patch of wild oats and began to eat. She was so hungry that all she would say to those who asked her if all of man's enemies were coming was:

"You will have to get extra seats, and put the thousand-legged centipede at the door to count them as they go into the council house!"

And sure enough when the grubworm, who was chief of the council, took his seat at the east end of the council house and looked over all who had come, he rubbed his hands in good humor at the sight of so many of man's enemies.

"Now, it is time for you to speak and tell what you think about man," said the grubworm. And first the frog got up and spoke.

"Look at me, brothers," he said (and he spoke in a low, sad voice), "I am ugly and crippled, and all over my back you can see sores. I can no longer run fast, but have to hop-hop along; I am no longer beautiful, and my throat is twisted so that my song is no longer sweet and clear. Man has kicked me about so much that I am as you see me. I think that it is time to remove man from the earth."

Then the blacklegged snipe spoke and told everyone why he wanted man killed.

"I suffer worse than the frog," said the snipe. "Man takes me and runs a sharp stick through me and holds me over the fire until my very legs are burned black and crisp. You all know how hard it is for me to walk, how I have to go teetering along even on the smoothest sand. Well, if man had burned your legs and feet as he has burned mine, you would know why I vote to have man removed from this earth."

So, one after another spoke and said that they thought man ought to be killed, and after each one spoke the grubworm cried out:

"That was a good talk, brother!"

Finally, the little chipmunk got up and said that he would like to say a few words about man; and the grubworm told him to go ahead.

"I am the friend of man," said the chipmunk first, and at that the animals and birds and insects cried out:

"We won't have him here—but the chipmunk out!"

"Man likes me," said the chipmunk, "because I am yellow like the sunlight and go flashing across the camp like a happy boy's arrow. I do not want to be—"

But the chipmunk did not finish the sentence, for the animals and birds and insects all rushed at him to drive him out of the council. The first one to reach him was the hawk, and as the hawk swooped toward him, the chipmunk headed for the door.

But the hawk's sharp claws raked the back of the chipmunk as he ran, and made stripes along his whole length—and those stripes are there to this day to show what the chipmunk suffered for speaking up for man.

MRS. LYON'S AGES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre-Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the greatest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

CLAYTON CONRAD, CARTOONIST, WHO IS TO APPEAR AT OUR CHAUTAUQUA IN THE AMERICAN QUARTET.

One of the Attractions at Our Forthcoming Chautauqua

AMERICAN QUARTET AND CLAYTON CONRAD, CARTOONIST.

THE program of the American Quartet and Clayton Conrad, cartoonist, will consist of both vocal and instrumental music, interspersed with cartoons—just such a program as Chautauqua audiences delight in. The instrumental music will be presented by three members of the quartet on the violin, cello and piano.

Mr. Clayton Conrad features speech in drawing his pictures. His experience in newspaper cartoon and commercial art work, combined with fine ideas of color, fit him well for the position he holds with this company. The pictures he draws in color are original and are new ideas presented in a novel way. He uses two pencils. Mr. Conrad has made a special study of coloring, and the results he obtains in a few moments with crayons are truly wonderful.

The cartoons and caricatures he draws are of the highest order of fun and are bound to make you laugh and cause you to forget your worries and care. When you hear Mr. Conrad read and picture "The Old Red Cradle" you will be convinced that he can also be serious. This number was given so effectively at Williamston, Mich., that a return date was booked on condition that this selection was to be repeated.

A Commandment

A teacher in a big elementary school had given lessons to an infants' class on the ten commandments. In order to test their memories she asked:

"Can any little child give me a commandment with only four words in it?"

A hand was raised immediately.

"Well?" said the teacher.

"Keep off the grass," was the reply.

TRAIN BOYS TO RAISE HOGS

Department of Agriculture Gives Instructions for Pig Club—Some of Important Points.

In this time of the shortage of beef raise more hogs.

That's Uncle Sam's advice, given through his department of agriculture, says the Kansas City Star. To be sure the farmers won't forget it, he would train them as boys and boys' pig clubs are his means of education.

Any boy who has a pig can be a member. Uncle Sam has prepared a bulletin which tells him how to feed and care for his stock.

Some of the points to bear in mind are the following:

"The feeding and care are as important as the breeding in producing a good hog. Plenty of feed and care may make a good hog out of a runt, but lack of it will always make a runt out of a good pig."

"To make pork cheaply a permanent pasture and forage crops must be used."

"Young pigs must have a dry bed and plenty of sunshine."

"Begin feeding the pig as soon as he will eat, and keep him growing until he is mature."

"Always keep plenty of clean fresh water where the hogs may drink at any time."

"Quarantine all newly purchased animals for three weeks."

"Never keep a brood sow that will not produce more than four strong pigs at a litter."

"Always keep a mixture of charcoal, wood ashes, lime, sulphur, salt and copperas before the hogs."
